Talks on Marble Arch Geopark
Foinse Biological Research Project

Cork Meeting member, Robert Foulkes, would very much like to speak to Quakers about the Foinse Biological Research Project, at the Marble Arch Caves Geopark on the Fermangh/Cavan border. This is a cross border initiative. The aim is to find the best ways to improve biodiversity and other environmental issues. Robert has spent most of his life working with trees in lots of different ways and is really passionate about this project. He will be in Ireland and would be available to speak to interested groups until he and his wife Robin Johnson return to the US on 3rd April. If you are interested contact Robert direct, Mob 087 381 3891 or by e-mail Robert@timbersmart.com
